HOSTING YOUR EVENT AT HISTORY HOUSE

Welcome to History House, a cherished gem in our community's architectural heritage. Now home of the Royal Australian Historical Society, the building was designed by prominent architect George Allen Mansfield as a gentleman's residence for his uncle and Parramatta politician, George Oakes, in 1871. We extend a warm welcome and ask for your cooperation in safeguarding its heritage and kindly ask that you adhere to the following guidelines:

- Treat the venue with the utmost respect, refraining from actions that may cause damage to its structure or contents. Be mindful of the venue's architectural features and historical significance, including the furniture and furnishings.
- Help us minimise our environmental footprint by conserving energy and resources during your event.
- Foster an atmosphere of warmth and mutual respect by treating fellow visitors, guests, and workers with the utmost courtesy.

Outside of these hours, security will be onsite at an additional hourly security charge and lock-up fee as outlined in the invoice. The client is responsible for any additional employee or security costs incurred by the RAHS that cause a RAHS employee or security to remain at History House after the scheduled finishing time of the function, or to provide a service that is not part of their standard contract.

Venue Responsibility: The RAHS does not take responsibility for the damage or loss of personal items before, during or after an event. There are no dedicated security-watching function rooms; please ensure all valuables are taken with you.

Client Responsibility: The client is responsible for the conduct of all guests and invitees and indemnifies the RAHS for all costs, charges, expenses, damage and loss caused by any act or omission by the client, client's guests or invitees. It is expected that the members will conduct the event in an orderly manner. The RAHS reserve the right to remove attendees who breach these terms and conditions or any policies, laws or regulations. The RAHS is committed to creating and maintaining an environment that is professional, safe and free from unlawful or inappropriate behaviour. We aim to foster a culture of integrity and responsibility amongst all employees, members and guests.

The client is responsible for ensuring the number of attendees does not exceed 60 unless another agreement has been made in writing with the RAHS. The client must also ensure all attendees remain in the room(s) hired and common access areas on the ground floor and basement.

Public address systems and noise volume will need to remain at an acceptable level and not disturb neighbouring buildings.

Event Approval: All events booked are subject to RAHS approval. The RAHS reserves the right to vary or cancel any booking if the event is deemed to oppose the objectives of the RAHS or may prejudice the RAHS. All events shall be conducted in an orderly manner and comply with the terms/conditions and all applicable laws.

Catering: The client is responsible for engaging and liaising with a caterer. Any external caterer engaged for the function may have access to the kitchen facilities and must remove their own equipment and rubbish after the function.

The client will ensure that the caterer complies with these terms and will be responsible for any additional cleaning, loss or damage costs incurred by RAHS because of the caterer's actions. Any external caterer engaged for the function may have access to the kitchen facilities and must remove their own equipment and rubbish after the function.

Alcohol: The client is responsible for ensuring that its employees, contractors and participants comply with all liquor licensing laws and responsible service of alcohol requirements. The sale of alcohol at History House is not permitted.

Extensions: Should your event run overtime, all incurred costs with serving the event beyond the expected finishing time will be passed onto the client. The RAHS will contact you regarding any additional charges incurred.

Property and Equipment: The client will be held responsible for any missing items or repair costs for any damages incurred to equipment, furniture, facilities or other goods or property.

Fire Safety: Prior to the event, the client will need to organise time with the RAHS to get a briefing on the locations of fire exits, extinguishers, and first-aid kits. All emergency exit doors must be left unlocked and unobstructed.
